

MATTHEW 1:18-25

Matthew, Mark, and Luke are known as the “synoptic” gospels because they “see” the story of Jesus “together.”

Matthew begins with a genealogy that connects Jesus to _____, the father of the Hebrew people, and _____, the greatest king of Israel (Matthew 1:1-17).

Matthew tells us the story of Jesus’ birth from the perspective of _____.

Matthew is the only gospel that mentions the visit of the magi and the story of Joseph taking his family to Egypt (Matthew 2:1-23).

Jesus is _____, and he was born to _____ us from our sins.

What does Matthew want us to know about Jesus?

- Jesus was truly _____ and truly _____.
- Jesus was the fulfillment of _____.
- Jesus was born to save us from our _____.

The Lord’s Supper is often called the “Eucharist,” which means “thanksgiving.”

- In the Lord’s Supper, we give thanks to God for wanting to be _____ his people.
- In the Lord’s Supper, we give thanks to God for _____ his promises.
- In the Lord’s Supper, we give thanks to God for _____ us from our sins.