

PSALM 67

Psalms 67 highlights the missionary heart of God, emphasizing that God's blessings are intended to flow outward, bringing salvation and joy to the nations.

Psalms 67 is also a song that is driven by the desire to make God known to the world.

The author of Psalms 67 is unknown.

Big Idea: Believers should want the whole world to _____ and _____ God.

PSALM 67

- God _____ his people so in return they can be a _____ and to make him _____ throughout the world (Psalm 67:1-2, Numbers 6:22-27, Genesis 12:1-3, 1 Peter 2:9-10).

- God calls _____ the peoples to joyfully _____ him (Psalm 67:3-5).

“_____ is not the ultimate goal of the church.
_____ is.” (John Piper, Let the Nations Be Glad)

- God will be _____ by all nations (Psalm 67:6-7, Hebrews 12:2).

Application:

- Believers are called to _____ others the way God has blessed us.
- Believers find their greatest _____ making God _____ among the nations.
